Why did Ford go from using 15-inch tires on the older Taurus to 18-inch tires on the 2010s? A One key reason is that the Taurus morphed into a large car in 2008 after 21 years as a midsize car, and bigger cars tend to wear bigger rubber. Even in 2006, the last year Taurus was a midsize sedan, it had standard 16-inch tires.
